Inside the Classroom

Mrs. Milfs' Pre-K class has once again filled the 'Fruit of the Spirit' marble jar. In celebration, they will have a 'Stuffed Animal and Pizza' party this Friday. The children will bring their favorite stuffed animal. They will be singing "No Room in the Inn" to their parents.

Stroll through the halls and see all of the wonderfully decorated doors! The teachers, students and parents are getting very creative!

Middle School students are going to a matinee production of The Nutcracker on Dec. 16th. One of our own 7th graders, Megan Robillard, has the role of Clara in the production. After the ballet, they will stop at Dick's for lunch.

Kindergarteners are building a Christmas project and they're going caroling at Merrill Garden Retirement Home next Monday.

Last week's concert was great. I've heard many nice comments about it. I appreciate the parent support for those in the cast and band especially. There was a lot of extra work for those students. It's so neat to watch these kids grow up; I remember when many of them were in preschool! The middle school Christmas Traditions projects were a wonderful addition to the program. It was good to get more insight into the different Christmas traditions that our families celebrate each year. The homemade goodies were great as well. Isn't it worth it to send your kids here to CPCS?

I really appreciate the generosity that was displayed during the offering. That offering combined with the Entertainment Book sales will provide Christmas bonuses to the staff. A mom and dad also provided enough money to purchase a server for our computer lab. In January the lab should be fully functional and running smoothly.

I'm looking forward to the many field trips this week: Kindergarten caroling, 1st/2nd grade trip to Village Theatre and the middle school field trip to The Nutcracker. Additionally, there will be a host of Christmas parties later this week. The parents and students love these classroom parties. I'll get a chance to visit with many of you as I go from party to party!

The canned food will be taken down to the CP Food Bank on Wednesday. Thank you to everyone who brought in food for those in our community who are in need this year. There's still time to bring in a few more cans! God bless, Mr. Frunz
